THURSDAY EVENING, NOV'R. 14, 1878

-In Philadelphia, at the invitation of Bishop Stevens, a number of the clergy and laity met at the Episcopal Rooms, to hear some statements in regard to the Church work among the Freedmen, from the Rev. Owen P. Thackara, rector of St. Peter's church, Fernandina, and president of the Standing Committee of the diocese of Florida. The openings for the establishment of new mission churches at points between the Atlantic and the Gulf, which are rapidly filling up with settlers from other points, are numerous, and with the aid of fifteen hundred or two thousand dollars, the erection of not less than half a dezen plain but useful chapels would be assured. He devoted himself, however, at the meeting referred to, to a very graphic and interesting account of the present condition of the colored people in Florida. The difficulties in the way of effective church work there, had within the last few years measurably passed away, and a grand work can be done by the Protestant Episcopal Church better than by any other religious body. He was strongly of the opinion that the present was a moment when the Board of Managers for Domestic Missions could, if enabled to do so, devote a much larger sum for the employment of colored catechists, with a good prospect of large and blessed results .- Epis.
